OUR MISSION

The American Federation of Teachers is a union of professionals that champions fairness; democracy; economic opportunity; and high-quality public education, healthcare and public services for our students, their families and our communities. We are committed to advancing these principles through community engagement, organizing, collective bargaining and political activism, and especially through the work our members do.

www.aft.org

This guide was created for educators and service providers who teach, mentor and help our American undocumented youth (DREAMers). Educators, school support staff and service providers are often the first individuals a student comes out to as an undocumented immigrant, a trend that will likely continue under the federal government program Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA). It's critically important that educators and service providers know about the tools and resources available to help guide undocumented youth to become "DACAmended."

Did you know that many undocumented students are eligible for in-state tuition and can obtain a Social Security number, work permit and driver's license?

Case Law

Under federal law (Plyler v. Doe, 1982), all students—regardless of citizenship or residency—are entitled to a K-12 education, including college counseling services.

Undocumented students:

- Are aspiring citizens who came to the United States without legal documentation or who have overstayed their visa.
- Often don't know they are undocumented until they begin the college process.
- Don't qualify for federal grants or loans even if they are in financial need and their parents pay taxes.
- Have done everything our society has asked them to do. They have worked hard, studied hard and played by the rules, and they want the ability to use their talents and gifts to give back to their communities.

FACTS ABOUT UNDOCUMENTED YOUTH

Approximately 2.5 million undocumented youth live in the United States.

Each year, 80,000 undocumented youth turn 18 years of age.

Each year, 65,000 undocumented youth graduate from high school, of which only 5 to 10 percent enroll in college.

Of these undocumented youth enrolled in college, only 1 to 3 percent graduate each year.

For information about tuition equity, see www.unitedwedream.org/deep and www.nilc.org/fsinstate.html.

What Is DACA?

On June 15, 2012, the U.S. Department of Homeland Security announced a program, called Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals, for undocumented youth who meet a number of requirements. Youth granted DACA are protected from deportation for two years, subject to renewal, and provided with a work permit. In almost every state, DACAdmented students can apply for a driver's license.

Eligibility Requirements for Applicants

You may request consideration of DACA if you:

- Were under the age of 31 as of June 15, 2012;
- Came to the United States before reaching age 16;*
- Have lived in the United States continuously since June 15, 2007;
- Entered without inspection before June 15, 2012, or your immigration status expired as of June 15, 2012;
- Were physically present in the United States on June 15, 2012, and at the time of submitting your DACA application;
- Are currently attending school, have a high school degree or general education development (GED) certificate, or are an honorably discharged veteran of the U.S. Armed Forces; and
- Have not been convicted of certain crimes.

NOTE ABOUT THE AGE REQUIREMENT

Applicants have to be at least 15 years old to apply for DACA unless they are in immigration court or are under an order to depart the country.

Filing Fee

The DACA application fee is $465.*

NOTE

Do not let the filing application fee discourage students from applying. There are scholarships and loan programs designed to help with such fees. For information on loan programs, see bit.ly/DACA_loan.

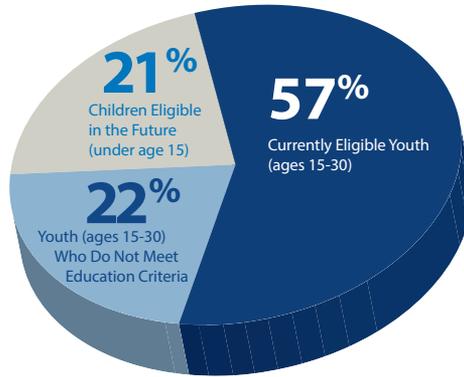

Undocumented Youth and DACA

According to the Migration Policy Institute:

- Out of the 1.9 million undocumented immigrants who would benefit from DACA, approximately 1.09 million (57 percent) currently meet the DACA age requirement (15-30) and the education eligibility criteria (they are currently enrolled in school or have obtained a high school diploma or its equivalent).

SOURCE: MIGRATION POLICY INSTITUTE

- About 423,000 (22 percent) potentially eligible undocumented immigrants do not meet the education requirement (they are not currently enrolled in school and have not obtained a high school diploma or its equivalent).
- About 392,000 (21 percent) undocumented immigrants who would benefit from DACA are children under the age of 15 (youth who could become eligible, if they stay in school, once they reach 15).

Table 3. School Enrollment and Educational Attainment of Currently Eligible DACA Youth

Educational Attainment	Currently Eligible Population	Share (%)
Total	1,089,000	100
Currently enrolled in grades K-12	266,000	24
High school diploma/GED as terminal degree	482,000	44
Currently enrolled in college (no degree)	240,000	22
Associate degree	40,000	4
Bachelor's degree	53,000	5
Advanced degree	8,000	1

Notes: Currently eligible youth meet both age and education criteria (i.e., they are ages 15 to 30 and are either enrolled in school or have at least a high school diploma or its equivalent); this group does not include those potential beneficiaries who may become eligible by enrolling in an adult education, literacy, or training program. The data do not account for youth who have enrolled in such a program since the ACS data were collected in 2011.

BARRIERS TO EDUCATIONAL ATTAINMENT

As educators, school support staff and service providers, your knowledge of Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) can help ensure that the over 1.9 million undocumented immigrants who would benefit from DACA understand the barriers they face.

HIGH SCHOOL RE-ENROLLMENT

Some undocumented students who are younger than 21 years old are being denied the ability to enroll in high school, and in some cases, undocumented students may not know the high school re-enrollment process.

INCOME

42% of DACA-eligible youth who do not meet the education requirement live in families with incomes below 100% of the federal poverty level.

77% live in families with incomes below 200% of the federal poverty level.

WORKFORCE

71% of DACA-eligible youth who do not meet the education requirement are in the labor workforce. These responsibilities may affect their ability to stay focused, hopeful or invested in their education.

LIMITED ENGLISH PROFICIENCY

69% of DACA-eligible youth who do not meet the education requirement are classified as “Limited English Proficiency” (students who do not speak English well or at all).

Helping Undocumented Youth with DACA

As a teacher or service provider, you can assist undocumented students by pointing them to the self-screening DACA tool on bit.ly/DoIQualify, and by assisting them with compiling the following documents to be used as proof of their DACA eligibility:

- ❑ Official school transcripts: Transcripts must demonstrate the entirety of the student's enrollment (K-12). They do not need to be sealed or certified.
- ❑ Official high school transcript or diploma: Students who have graduated from high school must obtain an official high school transcript that includes the date of graduation and a copy of their high school diploma. If a student has lost his or her diploma, the student should find out the school's replacement policy. If the student's transcript has the graduation date on it, the student may not need his or her diploma; however, it is wise to attach a copy, if possible, to show a preponderance of evidence.
- ❑ Other helpful documents: If possible, please make copies of the student's entire enrollment record, including copies of vaccine records, proof of residency on file, report cards on file and awards. This will help prove continuous presence.
- ❑ Yearbooks: If you have yearbooks archived in the school library, have them on hand so that when a DACA applicant requests his or her official transcripts, proof of enrollment and a copy of enrollment records, you can also photocopy the student's yearbook picture as well as any group/club pictures the student may appear in. Again, this will help show continuous presence and good moral character.

If your students want legal assistance, Own the Dream can direct them to low-cost legal services. Discourage your students from using an unlicensed legal consultant or "notario," as they may provide bad advice or charge exorbitant fees. For more information, visit bit.ly/OwnTheDream.

Top 11 Ways You Can Help Support Undocumented Youth

- 1 Help provide a bully-free school environment for all students. On April 9, the DREAM Educational Empowerment Program (DEEP) and its partners are holding a National Coming Out Day for undocumented youth. Take the pledge to help support undocumented students succeed.
- 2 Tell undocumented students that they can go to college, even though some options and services may be unavailable to them.
- 3 Make information and resources available to all students.
- 4 Be open-minded. Don't make assumptions about which students are undocumented. Not every undocumented student is Spanish-speaking or enrolled in ESL (English as a second language) classes.
- 5 Identify scholarships that don't require citizenship or permanent residency. Encourage other scholarship programs to change their policies to allow all qualified students to apply.
- 6 Help students get ongoing mentoring and advice, before and after the college admissions process. Focus on holistic student development.
- 7 Be knowledgeable about specific policies that affect undocumented students at a national, statewide and local level.
- 8 Support comprehensive immigration reform, the federal DREAM Act and state legislation to support undocumented students.
- 9 Identify older undocumented students and organizations that can serve as role models and help build a sense of community.
- 10 Encourage parents/guardians to be involved in undocumented students' educational journey.
- 11 Refer students to qualified legal counsel to investigate possible immigration remedies. This can be a lengthy process, and not all students will find immediate remedies.
